

A photograph of three men in a workshop. One man in a white shirt is kneeling and using a torch to heat a piece of metal in a furnace. Another man in a dark blue shirt is standing and assisting him. A third man in a light blue shirt is standing in the background, observing. The workshop has shelves with various items, a large furnace, and a yellow gas cylinder. The text 'ENGAGING COMMUNITIES' is overlaid at the top, 'IN' is in the middle, and 'LANDFILL GAS PROJECTS' is at the bottom.

PROJECT SUSTAINABILITY

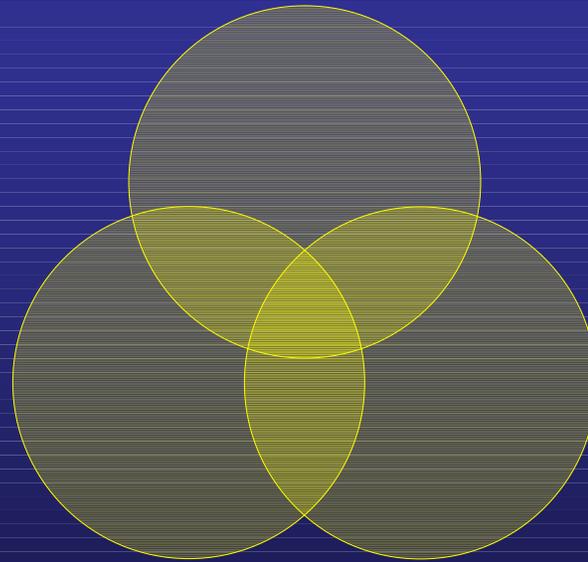

A photograph of a pottery studio. In the foreground, a table is constructed from stacked corrugated metal sheets. On the table, there are several ceramic items, including a white teapot, a dark green vase, and a brown bowl. In the background, white shelves are mounted on a wall, displaying a variety of colorful ceramic vessels such as vases, bowls, and pitchers. The ceiling is made of corrugated metal, and the walls are a light color.
