

Quarterly e-newsletter on news, resources & policies highlighting revitalization in the mid-Atlantic states

TOP STORIES

Making way for the birds and bees in Baltimore Learn how the National Aquarium will reap the benefits from a recent site cleanup

WV's secret to success: going to the frontlines Read about West Virginia's wonderfully simple strategy for revitalizing rural areas

EPA's revolving loan program heats up Delaware and Pennsylvania are making good things happen with their RLF grant dollars

$1.2 million PA riverfront lot gets a green facelift Along with a new enviro degree, a local college enjoys greener parking and more

Virginia workforce reaps rewards of revitalization Over 300 jobs created at a former tannery-turned-Lowes in the City of Salem

EVENTS

JULY 30 Call for Ideas DUE for Brownfields 2011
Philadelphia, PA (see below)

SEPT 8-9 WV Brownfields Conference
Charleston, WV

SEPT 28-29 PA Brownfields Conference
Allentown, PA

FEB 3-5 Partners for Smart Growth Conference
Charleston, NC

RESOURCES

Declare Greendependence in Philadelphia Reserve your spot for the Brownfields Nat'l Conference, where sustainable minds meet

Get involved in Brownfields 2011 Newcomers and seasoned pros alike have much to gain by submitting ideas, joining a planning committee or sponsoring one of the U.S.'s largest redevelopment forums

Recovery Act funding creates Cobbs Creek pride Indian Creek community gets a lift from over 400 trees planted in West Philly

Free technical advice for your brownfields program Learn about an ongoing program that provides skillful assistance at every step of your community's redevelopment process, absolutely free of cost.

TALK TO US

To subscribe to this e-newsletter, send an email to the editor at kim.lena@epa.gov with the word "Subscribe" in the subject line. We also want your feedback! Email your story ideas and comments to the editor at kim.lena@epa.gov.

BROWNFIELDS 2011

Philadelphia

Join us in Philly April 3-5, 2011 where thousands will convene for the 14th National Brownfields Conference. You'll experience:

- Over 100 dynamic seminars;
- Green tech & sustainability panels;
- Vast networking opportunities;
- Workshops, local tours & more

Call for Ideas closing soon!
To submit your ideas visit:
www.brownfields2011.org