

Environmental Justice Showcase Community Urban Agriculture Project Update

Region 7 EJ Showcase: Soil Sampling, September 27th, 2010

A farmer searches for the seasons last banana peppers at an urban farm in the Washington Wheatley Neighborhood of Kansas City, MO.

An EPA contractor uses a handheld XRF analyzer to examine the content of heavy metals within the soil at a future garden site in Kansas City, MO.

An EPA contractor uses a bucket auger to collect soil. The soil will later be sent to the EPA Region 7 lab where it will be analyzed for contaminants.

