Subject Re: Modified 401 Certification for PCS Phosphate

Please be advised that DCM will be reviewing the consistency certification. The consistency certification was tied to the WQ certification of December 5, 2008. Now that the WQ certification has been revised we will need to modify the consistency certification. Due to the weather and other work priorities, I have not had the opportunity to fully review this. Nevertheless, I thought it would be important to inform everyone that the consistency certification will need to be revisited. I hope that this can be completed by the end of January. If you have any questions, please call me at 252-808-2808 or email me.
