

Q&A

- SOARescue: Did you do test the electrical components of the vehicle after this intense decontamination?
 - William Richter: The short answer is no – we did not see any effects on operation of the vehicle. Typically, even with high level of condensation, a laptop can run and collect data and it is not super deleterious.